

Arcane Crypto's cryptocurrency broker Kaupang launches service for automatic saving in cryptocurrencies

Stockholm September 14, 2021 - Arcane Crypto's wholly-owned subsidiary Kaupang Krypto AS has today launched a service for automatic saving in all cryptocurrencies available on the platform. The automatic savings function is a highly demanded solution among Kaupang's customers and will help clients mitigate timing risk and eliminate the need to repetitively place orders.

"The test period has received a positive response from Kaupang's customers, and I am happy to announce that the service now will be more widely available. We have high expectations on what the service can deliver and expect that a significant share of Kaupang's customers will use it," comments Torbjørn Bull Jensen, CEO of Arcane Crypto.

About Kaupang Krypto

Kaupang operates as a broker registered with Finanstilsynet and has the largest selection of cryptocurrencies in the Norwegian market. In addition to their automated purchase widget, they operate an OTC desk for clients who are buying and selling larger amounts of bitcoin and other cryptocurrencies, who need access to deep liquidity on a request for quote basis. This operation model creates flexibility allowing a tailor-made approach to large clients, payment related flow and altcoins.
